

1. There are 653 lemon candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 268 candies. How many candies will be left in the storeroom?
2. There were 368 orange candies in the storeroom. The factory makes 286 more candies. How many candies will be in the storeroom now?
3. There were 467 lime candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 753 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?
4. There were 664 grape candies in the storeroom. After some candies were shipped to a store, there were 283 grape candies left in the storeroom. How many grape candies did the shop order?

Factory Word 1

1. There are 368 candies in the storeroom. The factory makes 286 more candies. How many candies will there be in the storeroom now?
2. There are 653 candies in the storeroom. A shop places an order for 268 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?
3. There are 467 candies in the storeroom. The factory makes 286 more candies. How many candies will there be in the storeroom now?
4. There are 283 candies in the storeroom. A store places an order for 664 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?

Factory Word 2

1. There are 396 candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 412 candies. How many candies will be left in the storeroom?
2. There were 459 candies in the storeroom. The factory makes 459 more candies. How many candies will be in the storeroom now?
3. There were 575 candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 800 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?
4. There were 900 grape candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 472 candies. How many candies will be left in the storeroom?

Factory Word 3

1. There are 863 candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 490 candies. How many candies will be left in the storeroom?
2. There were 534 candies in the storeroom. A shop places an order for 702 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?
3. There are 821 candies in the storeroom. A shop orders 673 candies. How many more candies will the factory need to make to fill the order?
4. There are 643 grape candies in the storeroom. The factory makes 358 more candies. How many candies will there be in the storeroom now?

Factory Word 4